

ODYSSEY '61

A shimmering ring of keys lies forgotten in the warm, summer sun. As time slips by, rust begins to collect in the curves and crevices of the precious keys — the rust of idleness and indifference. Then, at last, the keys are remembered; they are grasped by the powerful hand of incentive. When polished with eagerness and perserverance, the keys again become bright and useful. Each individual key is carved to fit a broad and beautiful door . . . sculptured to unlock a new passageway of thought.

Titans, you hold the keys. If you will guard them from rust by constant use, they will be your passport to opportunity . . . achievement . . . and success.

To The Titans . . .

who have accepted with magnificent dreams and noble plans the challenge of an incomparable inheritance . . .

who have welcomed with eagerness the actions that open the doors to the goodness, the variety and the excitement of effort and success, of battle and victory . . .

to these Titans we give the keys to precious memories, and the splendor of achievement. . . .

To these Titans we dedicate the Odyssey for 1960-61.

Crowned by her jagged bronze summit, Mount Olympus proudly presides over the beautiful Salt Lake Valley. At her base, another great leader reigns; a monument to knowledge, progress and achievement — Olympus High School.

Leadership — effort fulfilled, obedience applied, dreams accomplished. Our goal . . . this is our goal: To progress with leadership to leadership, to learn by history while creating history, to search for knowledge with the light of leadership for the light of truth. Our goal . . . this, leadership, is our goal.

LEADERSHIP

As we unlock the treasure chests of memories we have collected while at Olympus, we cannot forget those who have given us the keys with which to open them. Truly a group of master locksmiths, our administration has usually found amongst their ring of keys the one which will turn most smoothly in the lock of a problem. By lending the student body access to their keys of experience, they have transformed student apprentices into masters, capable of unlocking the doors of tomorrow.

Superintendents

The superintendents and board members have done an outstanding job throughout this past year, attending to the many varied and complex problems of an ever expanding Granite School District. Together they have devoted themselves untiringly to the betterment and continual progress of each school under their jurisdiction.

Kenneth C. Farrer
Assistant Superintendent

Board of Education

Dr. Burton T. Brasher, Zeph E. Erekson, Forace Green.

Experienced and capable, the Board of Education has directed and supervised the Granite School District with exceptional organization and smoothness. Setting the policies under which the schools are governed is only one of their many responsibilities. With their guidance, Olympus has grown and developed into the school it is today.

Principal

The deep satisfaction and pleasure Dr. W. Harold Handley has gained from his association with students has been mirrored in the admiration and respect they accord him. He has endeavored to raise educational standards, to impart a "oneness of spirit" among our large student body and to praise sincere and earnest effort in all fields. These endeavors have served to build our finest and most enduring product — young men and women who will become the leaders of tomorrow's world.

May we continue to feel Dr. Handley's proud and protective loyalty in future years.

Administration

Vice Principal

Mr. O. Grant Rowley serves Olympus in multi-capacities as vice principal. He has labored diligently to furnish smoothly running student functions, discipline, and a well-rounded educational program. Specifically, he wishes to see Titans develop good citizenship through practical experience. His sincere efforts and attitudes have won him the trust and friendship of the entire student body.

The student body will long remember the administration as the power behind Olympus High School. They hold the Master Key which they willingly contribute to the development of leadership and initiative. This Master Key unlocks before us the world of tomorrow, with vast opportunities to gain success and happiness in the future that is our heritage. To the holders of this key we express our sincere appreciation for a harmonious school year.

Affable Steve Wright, our student body president, has encouraged friendliness and equality throughout the year. With confidence and enthusiasm, Steve has helped to make Olympus a smooth-running, polished organization. His willingness to serve has shown him to be a fine leader, and an excellent example for the students of Olympus High School.

Working together with Steve, our officers have diligently accepted the challenge of competently leading the largest high school student body in the state. Their keys of cooperation and willingness have unlocked many doors for an ever-progressing Olympus.

Student Body Officers

Because of her dedicated and active interest in peace and equality among all people, Sidney Sharp has been a powerful influence toward preserving unity at Olympus. By her thoughtful actions and sweet personality, our student body secretary has gained the love and respect of everyone at Olympus High.

Poise and an appealing smile mark the vivacious personality of Shirley McKean. With quiet confidence, she has helped to make this year at Olympus one to remember. By her thoughtful personality and radiant example, our vice president has helped maintain and encourage high goals at Olympus.

Chris Cook, with her welcoming smile and cheerful personality, has eagerly befriended everyone at Olympus. "Service with a smile" and "go the extra mile" are thoughts she has actively applied throughout the year as one of our historians. She is a leader we will not soon forget.

Experience, willingness, and Jeff Mix have combined to form a capable and popular leader. Jeff is noted for his active interest and leadership in nearly every phase of school life. By his eager participation at Olympus, our second vice president has won the admiration and support of the entire student body.

Besides devoting herself to the many hours necessary for being a competent historian and an efficient, enthusiastic leader, Judy Brown has been an excellent ambassador of good will. Her heart is as warm as her smile, and her smile is welcomed by all.

HISTORY

Olympus high assembled as a body for the first time on May 13, 1953. At this meeting, the name "Titans" and the colors of green and grey were chosen, along with the yearbook title "Odyssey" and the newspaper title "Thunderbolt."

Dr. Kenneth Farrer was the principal of Olympus until January of 1956, when Dr. Melvin Strong succeeded him. In 1957 Olympus gained Dr. W. Harold Handly, our present-day principal.

This year, 1960-61, has been one of progress and achievement in all fields. The combined efforts of our twenty-five hundred students and one hundred teachers have resulted in a very successful year.

May the history of Olympus be an inspiration to the many students yet to come, and an indication of a promising future.

SCHOLARSHIP

As the doors of a great Olympus have opened to welcome us, so have doors within these doors — hallways to thought . . . pathways to progress . . . doorways to life itself. Each individual student has only to apply his keys — keys of study and effort — and the opened doors to a world of challenge, progress, and achievement may be his.

Girls' Association

Starting the year off with a Buzzin' Cuzzen party to acquaint sophomore girls with juniors and seniors, the Girls' Association promoted a unity which carried over into the numerous other activities the girls participated in. The crowded calendar of events included a father-daughter evening, the annual girls' dance, and a mother-daughter tea.

FRIENDSHIP

A minute, but unbroken ring slowly formed . . . a circle of priceless friendship. Gradually it grew, becoming a thing of beauty and strength, a ring of greatest value, for its shimmering curves held precious keys — those of loyalty, sincerity, understanding, and friendliness. With these keys our various clubs and organizations opened the doors to lasting friendships, and joined together to form a friendly and active Olympus.

Clubs and Organizations

This year, a bright activity key opened the door to success for our many outstanding clubs and organizations, as the students strived energetically to improve and further enjoy the many opportunities that Olympus has to offer.

Olympus' successful Debate Teams spent many valuable hours preparing their material for the various debates which were held twice each month. To climax this eventful year, the members joined together for a very enjoyable farewell party.

Model United Nations

The dedicated members of the Model U.N. met three times a week to study the functions of the United Nations, and to prepare for their part as France in the Model U.N. Through their diligent efforts, these active students strived to better themselves and to further the education progress of Olympus High.

The outstanding students associated with Red Cross devoted many valuable hours to service in various ways. Each week, for instance, two students visited a hospital to encourage cheerfulness and hope among the patients. These active teens also sponsored the Red Cross Drive.

Pep Club

The Olympus High Pep Club for 1960-61 was especially outstanding. Besides ushering at Derks Field, marching at games, contributing toys for "Sub for Santa" and making cookies for Olympus' special days, these busy young ladies put on an outstanding assembly, made a float for Homecoming, and ushered at the Senior Banquet. They also had several very enjoyable parties, one of these being a Mother's and Daughter's Tea.

Through outstanding marching feats, and very fine conduct, our Civil Air Patrol has continued to bring honor and fame to Olympus. During each of the past seven years, this unique patrol earned the top state honors. In six of these seven years, they were region Champions, and in 1956, they marched in the nation's number one patrol.

Hi Ti

Ann Schofield
President

Members of Olympus' Hostess Club performed many beneficial tasks with gracious enthusiasm and quiet efficiency. Among these were the responsibilities of welcoming new students, ushering at school functions, helping with registration, giving flowers to the faculty, decorating our halls for the holidays, and occasionally cleaning the school grounds. To aid their Scholarship Fund, they sent Singing Valentines, washed cars, and sold refreshments at games. Besides presenting an assembly, a pep assembly, and a homecoming float, they had several successful parties and numerous excellent speakers at their sunrise meetings.

Odyssey

The members of this year's outstanding Odyssey staff, following the tradition of a great Olympus, devoted themselves to the creation of a record of our precious high school days. Having chosen the theme of keys to signify the challenge of open doors, this staff worked day and night to complete this story of dreams accomplished, friendships founded and knowledge acquired. Because of their diligence in producing this record, we dedicate these two pages in tribute to the members of the Odyssey staff for 1960-61.

This year's Odyssey staff certainly could not have succeeded without the able assistance of their devoted sponsors. The sponsors have spent long hours away from their families and other responsibilities in order that this year's book might be a worthy record for the Titans.

Thanks to you, Sponsors, for your time and encouragement.

Titan Information

This committee of conscientious students spent many hours compiling necessary information for our important and very useful Titan Directory. The small green booklet contains a calendar of the year's events; a list of the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of faculty and students; our favorite school cheers; and many of our various school policies.
